Admission Policy of Gunma University

We accept students who have the academic ability and research skills required by each graduate school and by major, and who have research motivation to contribute to the development of human society through research and practical ability.

Admission Policy for Course of Medical Sciences in Graduate School of Medicine, Gunma University (Doctoral Program)

<Human resource development goals>

Our goal is to promote medical research and education through the exploration and integration of medical science, ethics, and skills, and to foster human resource development that will lead the field of medicine and medical treatment.

<Abilities and Qualities Required of Applicants>

The department accepts students who have the following academic abilities and research skills necessary to study and conduct research in the department's program.

1. Those who have a willingness to contribute to the development of human wellbeing and society through advanced life sciences research and medical research.
2. Those who have high ethical standards and outstanding clinical skills who are willing to contribute to the development of human wellbeing and society.
3. Those who are willing to contribute to the development of human wellbeing and society as medical educators who nurture outstanding doctors and healthcare professionals.
4. Those who have English language proficiency as a basis for academic discussion and research literature reading.

<Basic policy for admissions>

In order to select students with the above qualities, the department conducts entrance examinations for working adults as well as general entrance examinations. In addition, in order to expand learning opportunities, we have established an October admission system. Entrance examinations include an academic achievement test (including oral examination) and a review of transcripts from the applicant's home university or other institution.

General entrance examination and entrance examination for working adults

In the foreign language proficiency (English) examination, "English language skills in reading research literature" will be assessed (Abilities and Qualities Required of Applicants 4). An oral examination evaluates the applicant's basic academic skills in the major field and research motivation (Abilities and Qualities Required of Applicants 1-3). In addition, transcripts are considered for a comprehensive evaluation.

6 Selection Method

The admission decision will be based on a comprehensive evaluation of the applicant's English language test score, oral examination, and academic transcripts from their previous institution(s). On the day of the Examination (February 7 (Sun.), 2027), a TOEIC Listening & Reading Institutional Program (IP) test will be administered as the English language test in a multiple-choice format using a mark sheet.

(1) English Language Examination

Applicants who submit a valid English test score report from TOEFL ITP (TOEFL Institutional Testing Program), TOEFL iBT (internet-based test including Home Edition), TOEIC Listening & Reading Test, TOEIC IP test (only administered by Gunma University), or IELTS (Academic Module, including Computer-delivered IELTS Academic) at the time of application may have their scores converted and used in place of the TOEIC IP test, provided that the score meets the minimum standa rds specified in the table below.

TOEFL ITP	500 or above
TOEFL iBT (Tests taken on or before January 20, 2026)	55 or above
TOEFL iBT (Tests taken on or after January 21, 2026)	3.5 or above
TOEIC L&R or TOEIC IP (only administered by Gunma University)	550 or above
IELTS Academic Module (including Computer-delivered IELTS Academic)	5.0 or above

Submitted English test scores must be from tests taken within five years prior to the examination day. Only original score reports are accepted; photocopies will not be considered. Original documents will be returned together with the Examination card.

Moreover, if you are submitting an officially issued TOEIC and TOEFL digital score, please print out the official digital certificate or TOEFL and submit it. Regarding the submission of your TOEFL iBT score, if you are unable to submit an original paper score report due to the discontinuation of paper reporting, please have your official score sent online to Gunma University Faculty of Medicine (DI code: G297) directly through your ETS account.

(2) About the oral examination

① For applicants with difficulty coming to the Showa campus for the Gunma University oral examination, we may use the results of the interview on the internet for evaluation.

② Date of examination

The examination is held on the same day as the general entrance examination. However, the schedule for the virtual interview is determined individually.

③ Applicants must contact the supervisor they would like to study with for the oral examination and confirm how it is to be implemented.

④ In principle, the oral examination of the international student entrance examination is held in English. Subsequently, we may ask some questions about Japanese proficiency.

(3) Messages about the applicants

Contact the supervisor you would like to study with prior to the application and make sure to consult them on your research plan at Gunma University. In addition, applicants for the Program for Cultivating Global Leaders in Heavy Ion Radiotherapy, Science and Technology are required to submit Form-6 with the supervisor's signature.

(4) Important Notes for Applicants Who Passed the Foreign Language Examination for the Integrated Pre- and Post- Graduate MD-PhD Program at the Graduate School of Medicine, Gunma University

Applicants who passed the Foreign Language Examination for the Integrated Pre- and Post-Graduate MD-PhD Program at the Graduate School of Medicine, Gunma University, and graduated from the School of Medicine within the past three years (limited to those certified as MD-PhD course students at graduation), may submit a Certificate of Passing the Foreign Language Examination for the Integrated Pre- and Post-Graduate MD-PhD Program with their application. The score from this exam will be converted as their English test score.

Applicants who submit this certificate may also provide an external English test score. In such cases, the higher score will be used for evaluation.
